PHOENIX CENTER FOR THE ARTS - TEEN ARTIST GUILD

The Teen Artist Guild is a program founded by the Phoenix Center for the Arts. It is sustained by an Advisory Council of art industry professionals who believe that career development is a crucial element of art education, and whose goal is to mentor teens who are interested in pursuing a career in the arts. The Teen Artist Guild provides a forum for teens to explore visual arts career paths, and create their own path to a thriving career as an artist. Teens will meet guest artists from the professional art world, attend lectures and tours, try out new art methods, network, and learn how to market their artistic skills. Monthly meetings will be held on Third Saturday at Phoenix Center for the Arts, unless otherwise noted on TAG calendar. Additional open studios, events, or art shows may be offered throughout the year.
