ABOUT PCA:

Phoenix Center for the Arts has been a dynamic community resource in downtown Phoenix since 1975. The Center provides hands-on visual and performing arts opportunities for all ages to participate in the arts year-round.

Art classes are open to the public, covering every medium from painting to metal-smithing, music to theatre, creative writing, glass fusing, and more. The Center also provides arts engagement opportunities through youth arts camps, outreach to community centers, and artist in residency programs to schools.

THE CENTER IS HOME TO:

- 14 art studios
- 210-seat theater
- 8 community spaces
- 8 Nonprofit Resident Organizations
